6. OLD BUSINESS:

A. Deltona Christmas Parade

The committee discussed the design and layout of the float they would be building for the Parks Department. A first draft of the layout was presented to everyone for review and discussion. Since the float was for the Parks Department there was some discussion about having a “park” built as a part of the float. There was a lengthy discussion about the design of the float and all the members were enthusiastic about this project.

Mrs. Brown said they could start in November once the Halloween event was over. A list was made of the items that would be needed to build the float and a tentative work schedule for November was discussed. Everyone wanted to know where they would be working and Mrs. Brown advised that Mr. Moore had said there was a possibility that they would be able to work at the barn at Dewey Boster as that location was well lit and was usually staffed with our facility attendants.

The sub-committee members wanted to know if a vehicle was available for the float and Mrs. Brown advised that a truck with a trailer would be made available. There was discussion about this sub-committee travelling on the float or walking next to it. All the members on this committee agreed to work together to make this the best float. Mrs. Brown stressed the importance of safety while building this float and agreed to purchase soft work gloves for their use. The members who would be using their own “tools” also had safety goggles.

Mrs. Brown offered to purchase the needed items and some of the members agreed to go with her on Sunday to help locate some of the required items. The Chair thanked them for their enthusiasm and efforts with this project.

7. NEW BUSINESS:

A. Topics for discussion with the City Commission:

Mrs. Brown advised that the Parks and Recreation Director was supposed to give this sub-committee suggestions for topics to be discussed as a board, that Mr. Moore would take back to the City Commission for approval. Because they were working on the float for the Christmas Parade, this was considered their current project.

Some of the members mentioned a teen center but said that they get shot down when suggestions are made. The Chair told them that they still need to speak up even if their ideas are not accepted. She told them not to give up.

Since Mr. Moore was not present and the board was already working on the float, this item was not discussed in detail. It will be added to next month’s agenda.
